REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:
2. The Amendment submitted on November 4, 2010, has been entered. Claims 2, 4 - 14, 19, and 22 - 25 have been cancelled. Claims 1, 15, and 16 have been amended. Therefore, the pending claims are 1, 3, 15 - 18, 20, 21, and 26.
3. The amendment is sufficient to overcome the objections to the claims set forth in the previous Office Action since the applicant has made the suggested change.
4. The 35 USC 112 2nd paragraph rejection is withdrawn since the applicant has removed the term ply from the claims.
5. The 35 USC 103 rejection over WO 03/039280 is withdrawn since the chess board weave pattern provides unexpected results over the tubular design that are not taught by the prior art, as set forth in the applicant's arguments (response, pages 5 - 7) and in the applicant's specification (specification, page 8).
6. Thus, the prior art fails to teach or fairly suggest a multilayer woven fabric having at least two different warp and two different weft yarns, the yarns being chosen from monofilament, multifilament, spun, or core spun yarns, as recited in the claims, wherein the fabric is woven such that the different yarns create multiple pocket regions in a chess board pattern so that the adjacent pockets are made from different yarns, and the upper surface of the fabric in each pocket region is made from a different yarn than the lower surface in the same pocket region. The prior art fails to teach or suggest that a multilayered woven fabric, woven in an alternating chess board pattern would give improved properties over the prior art multilayered woven fabrics made from different yarns, wherein the different yarns are either woven to stay on only the upper or lower surface or the different yarns are intermixed on both the upper and lower and not woven to stay in discreet areas as created by the chess board pattern. Thus, claims 1, 3, 15 - 18, 20, 21, and 26 are allowed.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
